Keymacro's functions are pretty broad as it also helps webmasters to speed up their blog creation process. And, as it was mentioned above, the main purpose of the software is to save webmasters and bloggers' time as well as automate and ease the work process. For this reason, Keymacro software supports a wide range of functions, from quick image uploads to WordPress posts creation, from snippet generation to automatic redirects. However, the main benefit of this particular application is that you are able to change the post's content. You can either write a new one or use the existing content. But, be sure that if you decide to use the existing content, it must have a consistent structure, as the program is not capable to read it. Keymacro Software also allows users to edit their text for the pages they have created, although, it is very limited when it comes to the available functions. If you are writing articles that include images, you are able to create new ones and change the existing one. This way, you can do the same for the post's title, description, and image. However, the editing options are very limited and you are only able to add new links, edit the CSS or the function. On the other hand, if you are a Joomla user, you are able to customize the sidebar or footer. In order to do that, you need to include Keymacro in your website.
