Another indie game, another multi-platform release on multiple systems. For all of the reasons you see laid out below, discarding this game is not easy, but discarding it is what I did.

Ubisoft's Freejam Games studio is good at building simple games that play well and have fun mechanics. Bad at telling a story, and are not as concerned about creating a universe as much as they are about making games. If you are looking for an adventure game that has a story worth telling, go hunt down Discard Drowsys: Flavor a Rush.

There is no multiplayer. There are no social interactions with other players, the art and music are just okay, the game doesn't really have a story at all and is more "you are this creature and you must love all of humanity". The sound is colorful and echoey - lots of creaking doors and wind whistling, medieval German accents when speaking with the conversation starter, "Welcome! There is a %UPRIGHT_INCIDENT_GOVERNOR down there. Please resolve the outstanding %EUR%}}" isn't the worst, but the oversaturated colors and the fact that adding art does not mean that the game is worth reviving, only that there is more art on your desk. Finally, the game doesn't tell you how to get the best gear without grinding for it, so you must find other

Enjoy!The present invention relates to a blood pressure monitoring apparatus and method capable of acquiring the rate of change of a fluctuating parameter, such as a blood pressure wave, and monitoring a blood pressure. The rate of change of a biological parameter, such as a pulse wave, an arterial wave (pressure wave), or a blood pressure wave, which is detected by a blood pressure monitoring apparatus, is used for various purposes. For example, in the case of the pulse wave detected by the blood pressure monitoring apparatus, the rate of change in a pulse wave is used for the detection of a pulse and, in the case of the arterial wave detected by the blood pressure monitoring apparatus, the rate of change is used for detection of a position of an artery. Accordingly, where there is no correlation between a fluctuating parameter and a change parameter, there is the possibility of acquiring information that is irrelevant for monitoring the fluctuating parameter. To avoid this inconvenience, conventional techniques, as disclosed in Japanese Unexamined Patent Publications No. HEI-7-248009 and No. HEI-5-220335, for example, assume a correlation between a fluctuating parameter and a change parameter. In such techniques, the fluctuating parameter is converted into another parameter such that the rate of change of the parameter is acquired by use of the other parameter. However, where the fluctuating parameter is a biological parameter, the fluctuating parameter does not assume a constant value, but rather, fluctuations occur in the fluct
