with uc.... ucancam V9.7 You've unzipped the file and found a bunch of hidden directories. That is where the serial number is stored. So, the serial number for UcanCam V9.7 is indeed ucancam. So that's the folder containing the serial number. There is no way of getting the serial number from a file, as the serial number is only stored in the software, not in the file itself. However, you could possibly extract the contents of the software, like the.rtf files it contains, and then look for the serial number in there. Although, I don't think you'd be able to find it there. Since the serial number is in the RTF files, it's probably stored there as a hyperlink, so you could simply search through the directories of the software for links to specific text. For example, I looked in the directory in which I found the serial number, and found a file called Downloads_meta_data.rtf. Looking in it, I found a hyperlink "2. Start a new campaign" with the serial number. So I found the serial number in that file. I was able to find it 6d1f23a050
